Dallas-Fort Worth, Texas

April 21, 2022

Welcome JSAC Workshop Attendees,

I want to welcome you to the 2022 Joint Security Awareness Council (JSAC) Workshops. For many of us, 2022 has become a year of transition. Transitioning from a pandemic restricted environment into one of accelerated change with our customers returning to full inspection mode for many of us. This year of transition is also one near and dear for those of us in JSAC, our 30th anniversary!

JSAC was formed in January 1992, and (with the exception of the now notorious 2020) for the past 30 years, JSAC has provided the DFW industrial security community an opportunity to receive educational information for professional development. The planning committee had big plans for this historic JSAC to be in-person, unfortunately, our venue and most venues we could use to provide you low-cost training were not yet open for booking. As a result, the JSAC committee will be providing the conference via the Zoom Webinar platform again this year to continue to provide an opportunity for our JSAC and NCMS members to earn CEU's. While your entire JSAC Committee will truly miss engaging with you in person, we look forward to reaching more people and providing you the opportunity to earn CEU's on a platform with which most of us are now VERY familiar.

Regardless, if this is your first experience with JSAC or if you are a seasoned attendee, we are very excited that you are able to take advantage of this opportunity. The JSAC team has arranged for Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) to present interesting, industry relevant topics May 11th and 12th.

I can tell you from the bottom of our hearts how much we appreciate you supporting JSAC, and we hope to make this a memorable, worthwhile investment for you.

As always, thank you.
